

NCPCR success story

NCPCR enables a visually challenged minor boy to pursue his dreams

A 15-year-old visually challenged boy who appeared before NCPCR in February 2017 was repatriated to the Antodaya Niketan Home (CWC-Kingsway Camp) as per his request. NCPCR promptly contacted Childline and also wrote to Child Welfare Committee to repatriate him. With NCPCR's efforts, the boy, who is from a place near the Nepal border, has not only been repatriated to the Antodaya Niketan Home but has also been encouraged to pursue his studies. He has recently appeared in the finals of class 10th. He has also decided to pursue computer training from National Institute for Visually Handicapped, Dehradun after the class 10th results.
