Greetings from UN Volunteers!

We are pleased to share about the launch of the India Online Volunteering service which is the extension of United Nations Volunteers (UNV) global platform for organizations and online volunteers to connect. This initiative is part of the project "Strengthening NYKS and NSS" which is joint project in collaboration with the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports (MoYAS), United Nation development Programme (UNDP) and United Nation Volunteers (UNV). The online platform has been designed to promote online volunteering which allows volunteers to develop their skills and take on new roles that their professional life may not necessarily provide. Volunteers can participate from any corner of the world wherein they can directly contribute in the development process. It's the success of the UNV Global Volunteering platform that had led to the creation of first country extension-India wherein a dedicated India page will be launched which will cater to the needs of the organization as well as connect them with the pool of resourceful online volunteers.

In this regard, we would like to invite your partner NGOs to join us in this initiative by registering the organization/individual to have access to the pool of volunteers with the right credentials, expertise and knowledge. We assure, the use of this space will dramatically improve the ease of creating your products, limit your search of applicants or vendors and help spread a word about your organisation. A simple detail about the project opportunity, skills required and time commitment would let you have a quick help from the volunteers fitting your need.

The UNV India has many success stories of volunteers who helped us with their virtual support in designing some of the best of documents. We want our partners to experience the same.

Background

The Ministry of Youth Affairs, Government of India (MoYAS) has been running schemes such as the National Service Scheme (NSS) and the Nehru Yuva Kendra Sangathan (NYKS) under which programmes are conducted with schools, universities and youth clubs in rural and urban areas. Together, NSS and NYKS reaches out to close to 11 million young people in the country.

The National Youth Policy 2014 includes a focus on promotion of volunteerism by building on existing youth volunteering infrastructure in India, namely, NYKS and NSS. To take this forward, under a collaboration between the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Government of India, United Nations Volunteers Programme (UNV) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) project, 'Strengthening NSS and NYKS' was started. The India Online Volunteering Platform is an extension of the project which aims to help young people gain a strong sense of civic engagement and transform communities.
