Introduction
The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) was set up as a statutory body in March 2007 under the Commissions for Protection of Child Rights (CPCR) Act, 2005. The Commission’s mandate is to ensure that all Laws, Policies, Programmes and Administrative Mechanisms are in consonance with the Child Rights perspective as enshrined in the Constitution of India and UNCRC.

The Commission also have responsibility of monitoring of implementation of laws relating to children such as; Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 (u/s 109); Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012 (u/s 44) and Right to Education (RTE) Act, 2009 (u/s 31).

Some of the key functions of the Commission mandated u/s (13) (1) of the CPCR Act, 2005 are to: examine and review the safeguards provided by or under any law for the time being in force for the protection of child rights; examine all factors that inhibit the enjoyment of rights of children affected by terrorism, communal violence, riots, natural disaster, domestic violence, HIV/AIDS, trafficking, maltreatment, torture and exploitation, pornography and prostitution and recommend appropriate remedial measures thereof. NCPCR believes that all constitutional rights of children within the age group of 0 to 18 years are of equal and concomitant importance and therefore the Commission strives to monitor the State’s obligation to protect these rights. As a seed is nurtured with care and nourishment in order to become a fruit yielding tree, the child environed in the diversity and plurality of the customs and cultures of India has to be provided with a protective and nurturing environment with all due entitlements from the day child is born.

Brief description of Visit
The Government of India revoked Article 370 of Indian Constitution from the erstwhile State of Jammu & Kashmir and introduced the amended reorganisation of Jammu & Kashmir Act which resulted into formation of two new Union Territories i.e. Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh. After the abrogation of Article 370, according to the Gazette notification no 34 of 2019, 106 Central Laws/Acts are now applicable to newly formed Union Territory of Jammu & Kashmir. These laws include the CPCR Act, 2006; the Juvenile Justice (Care & Protection of Children) Act, 2015; Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012 and Right to Free & Compulsory Education (RTE) Act, 2009 and other child related Acts. NCPCR being a national Statutory Body to safeguard the rights of children under the existing laws across the country, has mandate to monitor the implementation of the laws for children in the UT of Jammu & Kashmir.

In this regard, Commission has constituted a separate Cell to effectively deal with the issues of child rights in Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh and also created an exclusive online facility to register grievances related to child rights violation. The online facility is functional, child-friendly, easy to use and bilingual in nature. The link of this special portal is available on the Home Page of NCPCR’s Website and the link is: http://www.ebaalnidan.nic.in/JKL/registercomplaint.aspx implementation of these Acts such as lack of institutional mechanism and infrastructure facilities required along with suggested recommendations to be adopted by the UT. The document has been shared with the J&K, UT Administration seeking their inputs.
